PRINCIPAL’S REPORT

The start to Term 2 has been busy. Wednesday 16th April saw the running of the House Athletics Carnival. It was terrific to see the level of enthusiasm as the students ran, jumped and threw in what was a perfect weather day. Congratulations to Kenny house for winning the carnival and to all students for the way in which they embraced the day.

On Friday 22nd April the College Assembly paid tribute to the service men and women who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country. A commemoration was presented by Paige Patterson and Jordyn Nelson, the Anzac Ode was read by our College Captain, Shanon McKenzie and the Last Post and Rouse, incorporating a minute’s silence, was played by Rachel Butler. There was a wonderful air of respect throughout the student body. The College was also represented at the Mentone RSL service on ANZAC Day by Ms Deborah McKay and students Paige Patterson, Jordyn Nelson and Madeleine Salisbury.

Our Year 10 students were all on Work Experience last week. Teachers visited each student in their chosen workplace and many glowing reports were received. A major aim of the work experience program is to give the girls an insight into an area they may be interested in pursuing as a vocation in the future. For some the work experience reinforces this, for others it can change their thinking. Whichever the outcome is the girls are certainly wiser and more knowledgeable from the experience. Some work experience placements are difficult to obtain. Year 9 students should start thinking now about what they would like to do in 2017. Please seek advice from the Careers & Pathways Manager, Ms Rebecca Poulos.

The College Open Night is tonight at 7pm. Thank you in advance to Ms Carol Duggan for her work in organising and overseeing this event and to the staff and students who will be attendance to talk with prospective students and their parents. There will be two Open Afternoons next week while classes are in action for those who may be unable to attend tonight. The Open Afternoons will be held on Tuesday 3rd May and Thursday 5th May commencing at 2pm in the Lecture Theatre. Parents are most welcome to attend.

COLLEGE MATTERS

Uniform

Congratulations to the majority of students for wearing the uniform correctly and with pride. Girls may wear summer or winter uniform until 1st June, but are not permitted to wear a combination of both. Please remind your daughter that she is not permitted to wear the sports jacket to and from school (unless she is wearing PE uniform in Year 7). Staff will keep jackets for two weeks if girls do wear them.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT PROGRAM & ELC NEWS

It is great to see the international students being courageous, going beyond the ELC to make friends in mainstream classes. The Sports faculty has been working with the ELC to bridge the gulf and support students so they feel they belong. Similarly, the English Conversation Classes with the Year 9s has been successful in fostering new friendships.

We are pleased when parents of our international students visit our College during their time in Melbourne. Recently, Xiaoli (Rebecca Fu’s mother) came on a school tour and was impressed with the warmth of the school community.

MIDDLE SCHOOL NEWS

We welcome Year 10 students back from Work Experience. Hopefully they are feeling motivated and ready to work! Term 2 is well on its way. Students have completed worthwhile and wonderful work. The exams are just a few weeks away, the 1st-3rd June. It can be a time of high stress. This should be seen as an opportunity to develop resilience and strategies for future VCE years. Everyone is encouraged to take good care of their health. Eat well, ensure time is spent in the fresh air and maintain an exercise regime that is enjoyable and also promotes fitness.

As usual, room 1 is open for Middle School students to use for study during break times and before and after school.

JUNIOR SCHOOL NEWS

New Students

We would like to welcome Mia Hartley 8B and Amelie Taphouse 7G to MGSC. We hope they enjoy their time here and make the most of the wonderful opportunities offered.

Year 8 Camp

Year 8 girls are becoming increasingly excited about the upcoming Year 8 camp to The Summit at Trafalgar East. 8A-D will attend 16th-18th May and 8E-H 18th-20th May. Many fantastic activities will be on offer which will challenge the girls to move out of their comfort zone in a safe environment.

Extra Holidays

Term 2 is traditionally when a few families take an extended holiday outside of normal school holidays and ask the school to provide work for their daughters whilst they are away. Given the extra workload this places on staff and the fact that we want girls to be at school, staff do not have to give extra work to girls who are absent due to holidays.

Year 7 & 12 Fancy Dress

Year 7s spent many lunchtimes working with Year 12 girls to learn a dance routine for the Year 7 & 12 Fancy Dress Competition, held on Wednesday 23rd March. Excitement was high as each class performed in front of their peers and the Year 12 cohort. The judges found it difficult to choose, but 7D were awarded first place, 7F and 7C tied for second place and 7A came third. Thank you to the Year 12s involved and Ms Clare Selir and Ms Leah Liakos for their organisation.
Year 8 Humanities Excursion

Year 8 girls will be travelling by coach into Melbourne on Wednesday 4th May to gather information on urbanisation for an exciting Humanities project. A letter will be sent home shortly with all relevant information.

Junior School Team

ENGLISH

Year 7 and 9 students will be undertaking NAPLAN practice prior to the formal testing process.

On Open Night we will recognise the 400 year anniversary of the death of William Shakespeare whose plays are studied at various levels. All girls were asked to submit their favourite Shakespeare quote and articulate their reasons as to why. Many of the responses were thoughtful and indicative of lively minds.

Students will shortly begin preparing for the end of semester exams.

English Domain Leader

SPORT

Thanks to the students and staff who participated in Term 1 sport. Senior volleyball and tennis won the Beachside competition, progressing to the SMR prelim finals. Year 8 cricket, softball and tennis, and Year 7 cricket and tennis also made it through to the SMR prelims.

Term 2 sports are AFL, netball, badminton, basketball, soccer, hockey, table tennis and handball. A total of 25 sporting teams will represent MGSC at the Beachside level, a number of which will progress to the next round. Sign-up sheets are in the gym for all girls interested. Sport is an important part of our culture at MGSC, so thank you to all the girls who try out for teams.

AEROBICS

On Thursday 21st April the five aerobics teams had a dress rehearsal in front of family and friends in preparation for the upcoming ‘Schoolaerobics’ competition in Geelong on 1st May and 5th June. The performances showed improvement in technical ability and confidence. Thank you to Anna Berlingeri, Carol Duggan and student coaches Rikki Andison, Holly Stosic and Ella Grapel for their assistance and support. All the best for the competitions!

MEDIA

Top Screen and Top Designs excursion

Year 11 and 12 Media students attended Top Screen and Top Designs last week. They watched 12 short films that were shortlisted from 311 entries. The girls saw the standard to aim for and were inspired by a variety of different genre films ranging from comedy to psychological thriller. ACMI also hosted the Daniel Crooks exhibit of video work and Screen Worlds, where the girls looked at interactive games and Academy Awards from notable Australian filmmakers.

Students read crucial Production Design Plans (PDPs) with photography and print students had the opportunity to engage with their chosen medium in the unique exhibition space. Students were given booklets to further investigate what the city has to offer in the way of creative mediums such as radio, print, film and photography.

Top Designs is free for students through the month of April and May.

Ms Lisa Blumenstein
Let’s talk about something for a few minutes. It’s something we hear time and time again, particularly in high school, when everyone wants you to be as good as you can. We hear the word all the time: “Leader.” To me it’s such an intimidating word, but I do believe that that’s all it is: a word.

Today, being the Anzac day assembly, was the perfect opportunity for me to give a meaning to that word. And do it in a way of course, that we can all relate to. Because yes I’m standing up here in front of you, as your school captain, but having authority doesn’t necessary make anyone a good leader.

When I wake up in the morning, I used to follow a routine. And basically, my morning routine consisted of sitting on my bed for around 20 minutes and thinking about how tired I was. After that I’d just rock up at school and I’m ready to learn… Whatever that means. But then I get to school and I realise: I Haven’t even eaten breakfast, my socks are inside out, and after 6 years of essentially living with 2 and half thousand other girls, I still don’t even know how to effectively use a hairbrush.

Now, Inside-out clothing and messy hair are easily fixable but there’s another thing that I forgot to do. I have friends that actively look forward to waking up so they can eat their amazing vegan, all in one, healthy lifestyle breakfast, and then go their 6am run before they get to school at a reasonable time. That’s the dream.

However, I have other friends, including myself, (because if I can’t be my own friend, then who will be,) that don’t even understand the meaning of the word breakfast, because it comes from the far off imaginary land of the morning where it doesn’t matter because nothing important happens before lunch time anyway.

For those of us that fit inside the second category of people, let me tell you something, we are putting off two very important basic human needs: Sleeping and Eating.

So let’s recap the day ever so quickly: No breakfast. What’s even is a textbook? And I’ve come to the realization, that at this late stage of my schooling career I need to make some drastic changes. And why am I telling you this? I’m telling you this because, I’m standing up here, as your school captain, as your leader. I’m telling you this because contrary to popular belief, I’m human too. But I’ve accepted that, I live a life of no regrets and I’m content. Because If Leonardo DiCaprio can win an Oscar. Just imagine what we are all capable of.

But in order to achieve great things, we have to change what we do in every-day life, leadership is a lifestyle, not a title and one day, not only will we all be able to hand in our homework on time, but we will also be able to actually go to bed the night beforehand. It’s scary, I know. But we’re on this road of self-discovery together.

So let’s take it back to before I started going on about my day. What makes a good leader? There are qualities that we talk about. There’s always a basic list of adjectives that everyone puts on their resumes. Organized. Resilient. Confident. Enthusiastic. Sound familiar? But what about eating breakfast? What about getting 9 hours of sleep a night? What about that one time that I handed all of my work in on due date? Because these should be things that I’m allowed to put on my resume. And it’s things like these that you should be proud of. Because they are so simple and yet I can guarantee that there are a lot of hungry, tired people in this room. But just imagine what you could do if you weren’t.

So let me tell you what makes a good leader: A good leader is someone who is constantly evaluating what they do and seeing how they can make it better. See the potential in others, and work with them, in order to help them grow.

Every single one of you in this room is destined for great things. This I do firmly believe. There will be a few times in your life when all your instincts will tell you to do something, something that defies logic, upsets your plans, and honestly seems a little bit crazy to everyone else. Forget logic, forget the odds and ignore the complications. Nike told me to just do it, so this morning I changed something. I ate breakfast, I put on my matching black Calvin Kleins, and I feel un-stoppable.

So Damn Daniel, tomorrow you can too. Thankyou.
Why is it valuable to make teens feel older?

By Michael Grose

It’s important for parents to find time and space to have conversations with their teenagers so they can find adult connection and acceptance.

Recently I listened to fellow educator Bill Jennings, from Time and Space talk to parents about raising adolescents. (Bill assists parents to have great one-on-one conversations with their adolescent sons.)

When asked about the impact of having a real one-on-one conversation with his dad a 15-year-old boy said: “I feel older!” That’s an incredible insight from a fifteen-year-old.

I know kids always want to feel older.

Increased rights come with age. You can stay up later. You can go out more often. You become less answerable to your parents. You have more FREEDOM.

That’s the good part.

The challenging part is that with MORE FREEDOM comes MORE RESPONSIBILITY

That’s what growing up is about.

Freedom is easy. That’s the child part.

Responsibility is scary. That’s the adult part.

It’s really scary when you have to face it on your own, without adult assistance.

Young people yearn for adult connection and adult acceptance. When they don’t get it they continue to act like children.

Fewer rites of passage

Our community has few rites of passage for young people that help them to feel older. Twenty-first birthdays have lost their meaning. The first real pay packet and the independence that comes with it comes much later these days. For some, Schoolies Week is their only rite of passage!

It’s up to parents to help their young people feel older

One way you can help your young person cross the bridge from childhood to adulthood is through holding personal conversations that reveal something of your own life to your child.

Conversations about childhood and family memories; your life lessons; the hopes and dreams you hold for young people; your life as a young person; your personal ambitions; and what life is like for you as an adult can help your young person feel older.

Personal conversations of these types show acceptance

They are incredibly powerful, but you need to create the time and space for them to happen.

Sometimes you can contrive situations for these important conversations by going away with your young person for a day or a weekend together.

Other times you may just find yourself alone with your young person, uninterrupted and you are both in the mood to talk. Both girls and boys benefit from special one-on-one conversations with their mum, dad and mentors that help them feel genuinely older in the adult sense.

You need to have the inclination, as well as the time and space for these conversations to happen.

And I think it’s incredibly important that you do!
